

---

Make an 85min feature film with a 100 pound!

Posted by PMiddy - 2008/01/06 19:13

---

Iâ€™ve just finished authoring to DVD, a full-length feature film that I made for a 100 pounds! (approx. 200 dollars!)

Of-course this message is going out to all the film-makers who already have their BASIC equipment ready, including a standard DV camera, a PC and to those who aren't bothered about re-using a few of their DV tapes! If you would like any free help, advice or have any further questions in regards to how I achieved â€˜Driftwoodâ€™, including any pre-production or post production problems, please feel free to email me at:

internationalpictures@fsmail.net

Whatâ€™s the catch? â€“ If you find any of my advice useful or if you simply enjoy the clips of my low budget film below, please subscribe to my movies whilst you are visiting my youtube channel! (Due to the vast amount of emails I am currently receiving, please allow 2 â€“ 3 days for me to reply!)

See an extract:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bDVDy0JBayU>

See the trailer:

<http://youtube.com/watch?v=wRQhcpDab8w>

My full channel can be found at the link below and features making of documentaries, etc.

<http://www.youtube.com/PMiddy001>

Cheers,

Pete Middleton - Director

=====