

Cries for Peace Film and Photography Competition

Part of the London Week of Peace 2008 is a film and photography competition promoting Peace in London. Images and stories of violence and anti-social behaviour fill our TV screens and newspapers. This is an opportunity for YOU to reverse the tide and add your voice of peace to thousands of other people who are working to PROMOTE peace in London.

closing date

8th AUGUST
2008

Enter your short film (max 90 seconds) or photograph and the winning entry will be used for a Peace Campaign in 2009 and will be presented with an Award at the London Peace Awards Dinner in September. Other prizes include mobile phones and digital cameras and more. . .

Open to Individuals and Groups

Web: www.criesforpeace.com

Email: criesforpeace@yahoo.com

Tel: 07958 004 739

Organised by Spiraluniverse as Part of the London Week of Peace 2008; supported by the Home Office, the Metropolitan Police, Greater London Authority, Bluhalo Design Agency, Open Soho, Metropolitan Black Police Association, Choice FM, London Civic Forum, Revolution PR and others.

Cries for Peace

Film and Photography Competition 2008

More Information:

why?

Hey, what is the problem?

26 teenagers' died a violent death in London last year, and our daily papers continue to be filled with stories of gun and knife related crime. The authorities agree that there are real issues of youth crime and anti social behaviour in our communities. A recent survey by NCH found that 41% of young people knew someone personally affected by these issues and almost a third of them had been affected by gun and knife crime.

Drugs, self protection, image, peer pressure and revenge are the top reasons why young people are being affected by gun and knife crime.

But what affects your Peace? There are also other issues around PEACE, such as noise, graffiti, abandoned vehicles, pollution, stress, work. the list goes on.

so?

Are you bothered?

Peace. It is my business,. Your business. Everyone's business. It is said that 'evil flourishes when good people stay silent'. Across London, thousands of people are striving to promote peace in their communities. Join your voice to theirs and encourage their efforts by having your say..

how?

How can you get involved?

Pass your message to London using a short film or photograph. Your message maybe your views on the situation. A comment on recent news. A solution to crime. An encouragement to affected people. Something that makes you smile. An image that depicts peace. Simply photograph your image, or film your idea and submit this via one of the specified social media websites, You tube or Facebook.

PHOTOGRAPHY

What is Peace to you?

There are lots of images that depict peace to us. From smiling children to flowers, from abstract shapes to street scenes in London. That's why we would like you to take photos of the things that bring thoughts of peace to you. This will help us build a Peace Gallery and share your thoughts with everyone else.

FILM

Do you dream of Peace?

Film is a great medium to express your thoughts, and you can now use your mobile phone or digital camera, camcorder or professional equipment to do this. We want you to share your story. You can use computer animations, poetry, music, drama, monologues, pictures, questions. If you can film it, you can submit it. Your film should not be longer than 90 seconds.

more
information

Guidelines and timescales

The competition is open to anyone over the age of 12 (parental consent required if you are below 16). It opens on the 8th of May 2008 and closes on the 8th of August 2008. You can download an application form from our website or contact us for more details. Full terms and conditions on the website.

Web: www.criesforpeace.com

Email: criesforpeace@yahoo.com

Tel: 07958 004 739